Starting from Llanybydder School head towards village passing the old Albion Arms on R. Turn R at footpath sign following the path alongside a garage. Cross the footbridge over the Afon Duar ahead. The Duar is a tributary of the River Teifi, which is both a Special Area of Conservation (SAC) and Site of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI) famous for its Sewin (Sea Trout) and Salmon fishing. Head through the gate and follow the route as you climb the grassy banking into a field. Cross field bearing L towards a kissing gate.

Turn L through the gate and follow the stony track downhill passing farm buildings on L. Emerge onto A485, turning L and passing Llanybydder sign as you enter the village. Take care to keep to the grassy verge on a short unpaved section here. Continue along the pavement until reaching the cross roads. Admire the Horse statue in the Millennium Garden on the square created by local welder Alan Davies. Turn L at the cross roads heading along Heol Llansawel until returning to the start of route outside the school.
