

Craig Rhos Y Felin

See Craig Rhos y felin crag, a Stonehenge bluestone source.

A mix of minor roads, woodland tracks and fields. A couple of very muddy / wet sections especially after heavy rain.

Enjoy this ramble? There are 145 Paths to Wellbeing routes to explore across Wales!

Leisurely

113m

Circular

4.6km | 2.9m

01:30

S

Starting from Canolfan Llwynhirion Brynberian turn L out of the gate, heading slightly downhill follow the road for 0.4 miles / 650m. Continue straight ahead following the sign for the ford. As you descend round the hair pin bend the rocky outcrop of Craig Rhos y Felin is visible straight ahead. Beyond the house on the R, take the sign posted path through the gate and along the base of the valley. Spare a few minutes first and continue down the road to the ford, checking the water levels of Afon Brynberian from the footbridge.

1

Going through the gate Craig Rhos y Felin crag appears in an open area ahead of you. In Summer months this area is filled with native wildflowers and offers wonderful opportunities for viewing Butterflies and other pollinators. Continue to follow the path past a ruined cottage on the L where you will start a gradual ascent. Keep R where paths meet and continue ascending following the waymarking posts to a gate. As the path levels out you will be afforded stunning views up and down the valley, to Waun Mawn in the distance.

2

Enter the field through the gate, turn L and follow the path around the perimeter. Exit the field at next gate, turn L and follow the stony track downhill. Go through gate on L following the bridleway signs along a muddy woodland path (Feidr Ddŵr). Continue along path through two more gates. A small waterfall feature can be found on the R. Pass through the gate taking the next track on the R and follow the signs straight up into the village. As you emerge onto the road turn R and head back towards the Canolfan.

Consider the environment
Please think before you print

