Starting from Kingsmill cross the river Clywedog on the road bridge and follow it uphill for approximately 100m. A footpath sign on your R hand side will lead you into the woods. Take care as after a short distance the path crosses the A525. After the road crossing the path follows a field boundary until it reaches a lane. Two stiles lead you into the next field. Keep following the field boundary in the next field until you come to a pedestrian gate on your R hand side.

Going through the pedestrian gate you come onto a drive and the front of a house. The footpath heads back into the woods to the R hand side of the house. Follow the trail down through the woods, R at the fork then trending R and down. You will come to a footbridge in Erddig Country Park. Crossing over the bridge the path then trends R through the field until the river and the footpath go under an underpass and you return to Kingsmill. Please be aware that in very wet weather the underpass can be impassable.
