Link Path A

A link path between the Community Miles routes.

Fields with one major road crossing.

Enjoy this ramble? There are 145 Paths to Wellbeing routes to explore across Wales!

Denbighshire County Council have created two Community miles routes Wood and Rocks Walk and Graigfechan. The link to the leaflets can be found here <https://www.denbighshirecountryside.org.uk/community-miles/>. The aim of this route was to create a waymarked link path that allowed you to join the two together as well as generally improve the footpaths that cross the valley floor.

S From the blue route take the first path on the L as you leave Llanfair DC on the bridleway. Keep close to the R hand boundary in the first field then in the second field head just to the L of the house. Cross over the road and descend via the stiles and steps into the field. Head across the field keeping the boundary close L to reach and cross a bridge. Again keep the boundary to your L and reach and go through a field gate. Here the line of the path follows two sides of the field. Go L to the corner then turn R to the next corner.

1 Go through a field gate onto the farm track. Turn R and head through the farm following the track all the way to the Mill. At the Mill the track turns sharp left. Follow this all the way to a new kissing gate on the road. Cross straight over the road and use the stone stile to enter Coed Henblas. The paths goes up until meeting another stone stile. This is the point you join the Graigfechan community miles route and can choose to follow it all the way up Moel Y Gelli to meet the Offas Dyke National Trail.
