- S Starting from the information board shelter at the end of the bridge, cross the main road (take care) and go up the little lane alongside the small graveyard. This single track tarmac lane goes alongside a stream gorge lined with woodland. Past 2 cottages, where the tarmac lane goes R downhill, go straight on along a stony track past several cottages and onto a stone barn. Go round the barn, keeping it to your R and cross the field beyond heading towards the barn.
- 1 Two small gates take you through a wide hedge and 10 yards further, a stile on the R takes you into a small farmyard. Keeping the farm on your R, follow the farm's access track until it meets the B4570 main road. Turn L and walk along the road for 1.2 miles, then turn L at a small crossroads (there is a "Llangoedmor" sign in the hedge).
- 2 Down this lane you come to the old schoolhouse with St. Cynlos parish church in front of you. Follow the lane as it turns L here and continue to the crossroads at Croes Y Llan. (Just before the crossroads on your L, there is a small brick built memorial with a brass plaque to the memory of an RAF pilot who died here when his Gloster Meteor jet crashed in 1954).
- 3 Go straight over the crossroads into Coedmor Lane. This is a local access road with only light traffic. After $\frac{3}{4}$ of a mile, the road enters woodland with a nature reserve on your R (worth a visit). A little further on, the lane turns sharp L. Continuing for another mile you will see on your R the entrance into the Maidie B Goddard nature reserve. Continue along the lane downhill, the lane turns sharp L and makes its way back to Llechryd Bridge.
